

Work carried out February 2008

To Whom it may concern,

A.R Stuart Roofing.

From the beginning they were very professional supplying a detailed quotation and answering my additional questions.

The work carried out included:

Stripping back of the entire roof of an end of terrace 3 bedroom house - tiles, battens, fascia, soffits, gutters and replacement of same. Plus the removal to below roof level of a disused brick gas boiler flue stack that exited through it.

The quotation was very reasonable compared to the others I received.

The team arrived each day at 8am and started work immediately, all were courteous.

As I work and am the only person at the property I left them with free access to the house for refreshments etc. If they did use the house facilities then I could not tell when I returned each day – either didn't use or are very tidy.

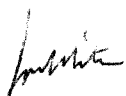

Work was completed ahead of the time I was expecting.

The work carried out is of a high standard - looks great. One month on and after some stormy weather, torrential rain no problems.

I would have no concerns what so ever in recommending them to you.

Good price, good work, no problems – what more could you ask for.

Sincerely

Mr I White
